

Canadian Forestry Accreditation Board Bureau canadien d'agrément en foresterie

Accreditation and Related Activity

Accreditation Review of the Master of Sustainable Forest Management program, Faculty of Forestry, University of British Columbia

In correspondence with the Faculty of Forestry, it has been agreed that an accreditation review of the University of British Columbia's Master of Sustainable Forest Management program will be conducted April 1-3, 2019.

The current accreditation expires June 30, 2019. [October 2018]

Accreditation Review of the Forest Resources Management and Forest Operations majors, Faculty of Forestry, University of British Columbia

Following consideration of the report of the accreditation review team and related documentation, the Canadian Forestry Accreditation Board (CFAB) has determined that accreditation of the Forest Resources Management and Forest Operations majors, University of British Columbia, shall be granted for a period of six years. The accreditation period shall begin with the 2018/19 academic year and shall continue to June 30, 2024, or for as long as the subject programs are in place, whichever is of shorter duration. The determination is subject to all relevant provisions of the CFAB Policy Statement which declares that, among others, "the term of the accreditation is subject to review for cause at any time".

In making its decision, the Board determined that the programs, as reviewed, meet fully the requirements for accreditation established by the CFAB Policy Statement and the requirements of the Academic standards for the accreditation of degree forestry programs in Canada. [October 2018]

The accreditation review of the Faculty's Forest Resources Management and Forest Operations majors was conducted as scheduled. The final review report is scheduled to be received from the team by mid-July. [April 2018]

In correspondence with the Dean, Faculty of Forestry, it has been agreed that an accreditation review of the University of British Columbia's Forest Resources Management and Forest Operations majors will be conducted March 19-21, 2018.

The current accreditations expire June 30, 2018. [February 2018]

Accreditation Review of the Honours Forestry program, Faculty of Natural Resources Management, Lakehead University

Following consideration of the report of the accreditation review team and related documentation, the Canadian Forestry Accreditation Board (CFAB) has determined that accreditation of the Honours Forestry program, Lakehead University, shall be granted for a period of six years. The accreditation period shall begin with the 2018/19 academic year and shall continue to June 30, 2024, or for as long as the subject program is in place, whichever is of shorter duration. The determination is subject to all relevant provisions of the CFAB Policy Statement which declares that, among others, "the term of the accreditation is subject to review for cause at any time".

In making its decision, the Board determined that the programs, as reviewed, meet fully the requirements for accreditation established by the CFAB Policy Statement and the requirements of the Academic standards for the accreditation of degree forestry programs in Canada. [October 2018]

The accreditation review of the Faculty's Honours Forestry program was conducted as scheduled. The final review report is scheduled to be received from the team by mid-August. [May 2018]

In correspondence with the Dean, Faculty of Forestry and Environmental Management, it has been agreed that an accreditation review of the Lakehead University's Honours Forestry program will be conducted April 18-20, 2018.

The current accreditation expires June 30, 2018. [February 2018]